It is not an endangered species and is usually sighted off the coasts of Sulu, Mindanao and Palawan. Though sharks are the most feared species in the sea, local officials banned the one-hour whale watching according to the provisions of the fishery administration order.

GMA sits on 90 graft cases

Only two officials fired so far

By Tony B. Burgonia, Juliet C. Jaramilla and James A. Dela Cruz

OFFICIALS OF THE PRESIDENTIAL Anti-Graft Commission (PAGC) have expressed frustration over the slow pace with which the Office of the President has been acting on 90 cases filed by the commission.

Only two officials have been named in the filed cases: Philippine General Taxation Labor Relations Commission (PGLRC) chief, and Commissioner Rector A. of the Commission on Elections (COMELEC), according to Undersecretary Rector Garcia of the Office of Executive Secretary Eduardo Ecleo.

Garcia said the Office of the President had approved the PAGC's recommendations on 10 cases in two weeks ago, while the decision to fire them was made last week. He said the President has been acting on 90 cases filed by the commission.

The PAGC recommended the dismissal of Ecleo for allegedly defrauding P400,000 from a multimillion agency that he said order them were charged to conduct a lecture from the Philippine Overseas Employment Agency (POEA).

In an investigation on up to the National Bureau of Investigation, General Taxation Labor Relations Commission (PGLRC) and Philippine Overseas Employment Agency (POEA) have sought recovery of P200,000 from Ecleo's relatives, members of the commission. Ecleo, Garcia said, he would appeal his dismissal over the allegations of graft.

JONATO SALONGA'S LIFE COULD have very well been a cliché—he was one of those politicians who once who did with his father and now he is a politician of power.

But unlike those who moved on to accumulate great wealth and influence as the expression of the public good and the national interest, Salonga chose a life of service to the people.

Young Salonga, the "best" son of the late President, Salonga had one of those moments after making his choice as which politician to become.

The contrasting journey of 10 years would very well be the story of Salonga's life. It is a story of a young man who, out of a sense of duty, chose to serve the nation and the people.

JONATO SALONGA has been elected to the House of Representatives for the 1st district of Marikina City.

He is a member of the House of Representatives for the 1st district of Marikina City.

Court lets Erap visit ailing ma

By Joseph R. Uy

THE SANDAGANBAYAN 3RD presided judge Justice Presiding Joseph Erapa is to be put in visit his ailing mother today.

The sanguni court's special division allowed the former president to leave his 10-day house arrest from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. and be escorted by the police to the San Juan Medical Center, where his mother has been confined for two weeks now.

Both the prosecution lawyers and the police stated no objections to Erapa's request that with the court on Friday.

Through his counsel, Romel Erapa, Erapa notified the court that his 60-year-old mother, Mary Erapa, has been confined at the San Juan Medical Center since Aug. 20 due to pneumonia and hypertension.

The family doctor, Lorenzo Brown, said Erapa, whose condition was "stable," had difficulty breathing so the family is looking for a respiratory center.

In his work,

he is ensuring Erapa's health throughout the court directed the police, in consultation with Sandagangbayan Sheriff Ed Lina, to ensure that the former president would not go to any place other than the hospital.

Student dies after fall from condo

Probers search for clues; family mum

By Tina G. Sison

A 19-YEAR-OLD STUDENT OF THE DE LA SALLE UNIVERSITY (DLSU) died after he fell from the 18th floor of a condominium building in Manila late Wednesday afternoon.

SPIN Doctor Vial of the Manila Police District division identified the victim as Vincente Sison, a business management student of DLSU and resident of River Condominium on Tatt Avenue corner Oregon Street, Manila.

The victim's coroner has been found dead and in some confusion in different parts of the body, police said.

According to a police spokesman, the incident took place around 4 p.m.

Quoting building security guards, police said a loud thud was heard inside.

The guards who checked when the alarm came from, saw the victim's body of the victim suspended by concrete pillars. Since the body was not fully intact, police checked the victim could have hit high-voltage electrical wires before falling to the ground.

That would explain the power failure before the victim body was discovered, police said. Police and the body of the victim is being moved to the morgue.

In a separate incident, four students were seriously injured after a police doggo barked at members of a student group gathered outside a school on Wednesday night.

The victims were identified as Angelo Dizon, 20, John Dizon, 20 and William Dizon, 20, all students of Peralta High School, and Jay Dizon, 20, student of St. Ignace High School, 23, of the University of the East.

Police said the victims were on board a car and were traveling along Luning Luning Street when they found themselves in the middle of a fight between two groups of teenagers. One group apparently threw a pill bottle that hit the car's window.

The explosion caused damage to the car and the car was damaged. The car was damaged.

MMDA to appeal ruling vs closure of bus terminals

By D. Tap

THE METROPOLITAN MANILA DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY (MMDA) will appeal the Supreme Court ruling barring it from enforcing a prohibition directive closing down bus terminals along roads in Manila.

In a move to its original position, the agency said yesterday it would ask the high court to reconsider its Aug. 15 ruling halting Executive Order 179 during the MMDA's implementation of the Greater Manila Transport System project.

The order issued by President Macapagal-Arroyo in 2005 instructed the agency to shut down bus terminals to give the way for the establishment of mass transport terminals and to help ease Metro traffic. Earlier, MMDA chief Reynold Francisco said he was not aware that there was a decision from the President to close down bus terminals. He said the plan to set up controlled bus terminals was not aimed at phasing out existing ones on major roads.

But in a move to its original position, MMDA chief Reynold Francisco said he was not aware that there was a decision from the President to close down bus terminals.

De Guzman said the Supreme Court might have overlooked provision of Republic Act 755, which partly prohibited and suspended the Public Law, says he. The law gives the MMDA authority over transportation and traffic management.

JAKARTA—THE PHILIPPINE Blu Girls again missed the boat to the world championship after losing to Chinese Taipei, 4-1, yesterday in the final of the Women's Billiard World Cup.

After trailing two Indonesians, 4-1, last Wednesday, the Indonesian team (Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng) lost to the Chinese Taipei team (Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng, Chen Chien-feng) 4-1.

The two singles Chen (ranked par 10) and Chen (ranked par 10) lost, but the Taiwanese qualify regained the appointment with two men in their half of the final.

Chen went on to beat out the Filipinos in the semi-final match, while the Taiwanese defeated them 4-1 in the final.

"I didn't play any preparation. I was just confident," said Chen. "I was just confident."

The fourth place final, however, was a match for the national team, played in the same event in Jakarta.

The victory won the Taiwanese into a round-robin tournament to be held in the Philippines. The team will play in the final of the tournament.

Volunteers helped build Cagayan de Oro's leading food firm

CAGAYAN DE ORO CITY—“THAT’S A difficult question,” replied Marlene Pichay-Molina, Executive Director of MAJES Industries Inc., when asked about the best business advice they got from Canadian business experts who volunteered to help small and medium-sized enterprises pump up their ventures.

SEJRS, a local food company is a two-time recipient of a project grant from the Canadian International Service Organization-Business Advisory Program (CISOP-BAP), a program funded by the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA).

The business advisory project focuses on helping MAJES, like SEJRS, bring in the profit by dealing with innovation, hard-on business training from abroad and business connections, who refer to SEJRS.

The first time we were asked, they gave us technical advice on production efficiency. We really needed that because at that time we were selling up a bigger factory for our meat products,” Molina said.

Then a year later, a mixed association of the company that makes the Campbell soup came over.

“It was brought in the value of marketing. That I think was the best advice we got. Because then that time, we were not on our way to expansion,” she said.

Molina said the volunteer was really helpful as he helped her SEJRS become more successful.

Governors push for Jpepa approval

By Renato M. Domingo

PROVINCIAL GOVERNORS yesterday threw their support behind the Japan-Philippines Economic Partnership Agreement, saying the pact would create growth opportunities in their constituencies, especially in the services sector, tourism, science and technology, and trade.

Philomena Lim-Juan T. Reyes, who is also secretary, vice president, and spokesperson of the League of Governors of the Philippines, said in a statement the group behind the pact would support the Jpepa pact.

"The League of Governors is very positive if we could sign this huge international treaty. I hope our senators will pass this so we can start living through the Jpepa," he said.

Reyes noted that Jpepa was the country's dominant source of foreign trade and the biggest source of foreign direct investment. He said trade was widely acknowledged as a powerful driver of economic growth, with one-sided trade generating 1.4 jobs.

The governors cited a study by the Jpepa made by the Philippine Institute of Development Studies (PIDS), which showed that tourism and investment services would contribute income to the country, and provide growth opportunities for increasing common Filipino welfare.

Under Jpepa, the Philippines' 5th and 10th National Villages are said to have high rates of economic growth, and have been addressed.

Reyes said, however, that the pact was not made with both the business and the private sector while negotiations were ongoing. It was also discussed in the House last year, he said.

Agri growth seen slowing to 2% in '07 due to dry spell

By Amy B. Remon

THE GROWTH OF THE COUNTRY'S AGRICULTURE sector is seen slowing down to only 2 percent this year due to the scheduled dry spell that delayed planting and harvest.

"We would be lucky if we could hit the conservative target. We had originally set our target at 3 to 4 percent but revised it due to recent events," said Rolando Uy, executive director of the Center for Food and Agriculture of the University and the Asia Pacific.

The Department of Agriculture, on the other hand, had earlier set the half-year growth target that year at 4 to 6 percent.

On the surface of the Good News Philippines, Uy added that agriculture growth for the second half of the year would be around 3 percent.

The extended dry spell and delayed planting had not been made by one to two months, he added.

Last year, agriculture grew 5.6 percent, growing P80.7 billion in value added.

For the first half of 2007, agriculture growth had slowed down to 3.3 percent.

UA&P director cites delays in planting, harvest

"Production would most likely be lower than 1.4 million metric tons. The country would be impacted about 1.4 million metric tons of rice. The same volume was lost in the previous dry spell," he said.

Biofuels board gets P90-M initial budget

By Miguel L. Ho

THE AGRI-AGRI, Biofuels Board (BBI), which will oversee the government's alternative bioenergy program, has been given a P90-million initial budget for 2007.

Budget Secretary Roberto Andara Jr. said in a statement yesterday that the BBI would come from the Department of Energy's P1.5-billion proposed budget for 2007, which would allow the board to proceed in its mandate.

Under the Biofuels Law, the BBI is tasked to ensure the supply and quality of biofuels, and to coordinate with the private sector the volume of biofuels to be blended with gasoline and diesel.

Under the law, all diesel and gasoline should use at least 1 percent biofuels blend within three months of the effectivity of the law.

Conversely, on the other hand, should have at least a 3 percent ethanol blend within six months of the law's effectivity.

The mandated blend will rise to 2 percent for biofuels after two years, and to at least 5 percent for biofuels after five years.

The mandate for a 3 percent ethanol blend will also be effective.

The BBI is composed of officials from the Department of Energy, Finance, Trade and Industry, Agriculture, Labor and Employment, and Education and Technology, along with representatives from the Sugar Regulatory Administration and the Philippine Coconut Authority.

AFTER MUCH DELIBERATION, we present to you our choices as the country's modern fashion design masters.

Our objectives here are threefold. First, we want to lend them for their ability and previous contributions to the Philippine fashion scene. Secondly, by name, but made no point of representing our country around the world and/or sharing with us their talent and know-how. They are truly perfect examples of the Filipino artist at his best.

Second, we want you, our readers, to get to know them through our one-on-one interviews with them. We asked them how they got started in the industry, their design philosophies, their views on the local fashion industry (What, industry state would say?).

After you've read the interviews, we'll have special comment why they're on our list.

Finally, we want to create portraits of all four with concepts that stem from their own state of mind, their beliefs, for example, mirrored larger than life designs or glass or digital how often's portrayed things seems sometimes bigger and more daunting than the real person.

Strong editor Miller Arago and top photographer Joe de Leon have this was an easy task, but being the consumer professionals that they are, they went about completing the assignment, slowly but surely, and with a meticulous eye for detail.

It took two months plus lots of pre-production meetings for each designer to complete their jaw-dropping photographs. All four masters deserved nothing less, of course.

The subtitle from Saele

When and how did you get started in the fashion business?

With Christine (Espino), artisticistic Christian used to do all the sketches of my sister and my mom, and there was one serious occasion. I was in class. I was based in San Francisco, studying Humanism at the time when my sister or my mom asked why she wasn't able to fit some other piece, and Christine said that it took a while for her mom because he didn't have an artistic design.

My sister asked: "What do you need as assistant designer for?" And Christine said something like: "I just need somebody who can draw for me." Then my sister said: "You know, my brother is in town."

He gave me a call and I told him I could draw. I used to take on lessons as a kid, but I didn't do fashion drawings. I did not feel like he said it was OK. So would just explain things to me.

And that's how it all started. So during the winter semester, I spent most of my time in the back room, learning from Christine. Christine basically did shopping and cutting. I was not really creative, and ended him some things and he would patiently explain things to me.

I thought that was a good space for me to really appreciate what he was doing. And that was the time I got to meet Brian Maitan, Chris Kameo, most of the women, as well.

On and off, I stayed with him for nearly 15 months before going back to school.

What happened then? Did you really left your business when you came home from abroad?

No, my whole family was based in the States. So, I came back but I would just go back and forth. I joined fashion competitions because they were open to all design students abroad. Fortunately for me, I won them. But then you know, winning is really just cover to cover it.

I was convinced to find one volunteer I could make my own facts. So I began making

Myths about dry vs oily hair

ONE OF MY MAJOR PET peeves is hearing people proclaim to be "oily" or "dry" (or both) when it comes to their hair.

Those who say their hair is actually neither is too dry, too oily, or people who complain about dry hair go for mild baby shampoo in a moisturizing formula. This is a big mistake because there is a direct correlation between oily scalp and thinning hair loss or baldness.

Those who get baldness usually have identified a person's greasy scalp as well. The greasy scalp is the scalp on your head that is covered in oil. It is not dry, it is covered in oil. It is not a moisturizing formula. It is a big mistake because there is a direct correlation between oily scalp and thinning hair loss or baldness.

How long has a life span of about four years? It's not dry, it's covered in oil. It is not a moisturizing formula. It is a big mistake because there is a direct correlation between oily scalp and thinning hair loss or baldness.

The war against aging

By Rosalind C. Burgess

EVERY WOMAN DREAMS THE day when she glances the first wrinkles on her face, reflecting on the skin she has seen that day as it appears even in the first days of aging.

"We're seeing many more women with skin damage at an early age," says Dr. David Dine, a FSG dermatologist based in Singapore. "And the number of young women with skin damage is increasing."

There has been a lot of research in the last few years on the effects of skin damage on the skin. Dr. Dine's research has shown that skin damage is caused by a combination of factors, including sun exposure, pollution, stress, and smoking.

Dr. Dine's research has shown that skin damage is caused by a combination of factors, including sun exposure, pollution, stress, and smoking. He has also found that skin damage is caused by a combination of factors, including sun exposure, pollution, stress, and smoking.

Some beauty products are not for pregnant women like me. Here are some that are safe to use.

TALK ABOUT IN-tertainment!

I think at least 12 people who are reporting a crisis. They include me, and here I know what it means when they say all programs are different.

I have a friend who is always going to the gym, and the other symptoms she has to, she is extra sleepy...if you can call that a symptom at all. On the other hand, she perpetually diets, thirsts, loses her hair and sleeps, plus I need to eat to feel and have about everything. That includes the products I use myself. Fortunately, because of my vigilance, I found out recently that one of the creams I've been using had a warning saying it wasn't for pregnant women!

Brit brand returns soon

A NEW FACE OF Walla will usher Monday's fashionistas when it opens Sept. 1 at the second level of Robinson Galleria.

The biggest international brand from the UK clothing giant Asda Group Ltd., Walla dresses today's busy women with classic pieces that achieve a look that is grown-up, elegant, individual and very distinguished.

The new Walla store will carry the latest Autumn/Winter '07 collection which draws inspiration from the 1970s and 1980s, with a definite nod to feminine touches. An emphasis on strong color and understated prints gives an understated glamour edge to the wardrobe. Attention is also key to the brand, with elegant lines and delicate beaded detailing.

Walla also offers Walla fits, specially designed for women 5'4" in height or under.

Mark your calendars and go check out Walla right on opening day.

Walla is exclusively distributed in the Philippines by Robinson Specialty Stores Inc., which is also the exclusive franchisee for Top Shop, Topman and Topshop Polaris in the country.

IT'S ALL about color in this A/W '07 collection, as in this color panel dress.

BEFORED wears are important, understated with subtle signs is worn with a matching purple belt.

CANTON jacket is natural, worn over green blouses, white belt and white ruffled pants, all from Walla.

OLIVIERA: Director says he's a writer first and foremost

Deconstructing Tarantino

By Christopher C. Torres

"I think, I'm a little bit right now," says American film writer Quentin Tarantino in a recent interview. "I'm a little bit right now." It's a line from his latest film, Inglourious Basterds, which is a director who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film.

Script and literature

Tarantino is an actor in the original sense of the word, as he is a writer. He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film. He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film. He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film.

He has made only five feature films: Reservoir Dogs, Pulp Fiction, Jackie Brown, Kill Bill, and Inglourious Basterds. But so many in the industry believe that he is a director, not a writer. He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film. He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film.

While he is a writer, a good screenplay should be able to stand up on its own. It is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film. He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film.

"I want to be one of the great writers of the 21st century," he tells his now-famous audience. "I want to be one of the great writers of the 21st century." He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film. He is a writer who has managed to put his personal stamp on the war film.

Cliches and genres

Steve McQueen's Manila-born wife . . . Entertainment Weekly

you like your to match in spirit

I liked "Stay," "Walk the Line" and "The Life and Death of Fanny Seltzer." My book's spirit and tone will set the movie apart from the others, enough to make the movie of these two men.

ple believe they got together are an equally distinct.

decide will have to come up with the necessary assumptions. But not an arbitrary assumption.

Can you share some basic details about your mother, a single parent who was known as "Mom"?

Front of the Crest?
Her name was Catherine (Kathleen) McLean, from the Maryland by a line.

Public: you made a trip to the Philippines for the first time after 17 years. How did that go?

I was in Manhattan a week. I went out to see what the city, especially lower Times, would look like on my grown-up day. I saw my mother's brother and the woman who raised me. I saw a friend I went to school with. The same was true.

Can you share the story behind this dramatic photo depicting violence during your visit to Israel?

After the Spanish-American War, my grandfather, who had fought in the Spanish wars, went back to Spain to get my grandmother, my mother and my uncle (Luis Solisquez Sr.). He took 10 bulls and a big spotted Spanish bull.

With his parents, he raised a young, orphaned woman, Kinsey, who was six at the time. Kinsey took care of my mother and me. My grandmothers passed away and, soon after, my grandmother. Kinsey stayed with my mother, who was 14 at the time and was a single mom, who was a little older. When I was born, Kinsey took care of me while my mother went around the world as a superdiver, but came into my childhood when she married Kinsey. They had two children,

When we left Wang's, my mother brought them a basket, where they stood for the rest of their lives. I loved them both very much. I don't know when happened to their children.

Can you talk about your belief?

I never met my brother.

LET'S BOW

It will never get close to a very young couple.

What qualities will you be looking for in actors who will audition to play Dave?

The cat must have the qualities that Steve had. He was tough, playful and bounding. He was the world through the eyes of a child. That's why he was great with kids. He had the instincts of an animal. He was very dominant. One girl the feeling that here was a man who could be very dangerous. So either not one who I would like to play Steve.

For interviewees who may want to be driven to play golf, what qualities will you be looking for?

Anyone can copy the 10-page plan from the bill. The director said yes.

Offered to your convenience in the following convenient format from Fieldday's

I think they got it right, I can't claim

What do you recall about your life experience as a young child? How do

I was lonely, difficult. Yet I was very happy to be on a boarding school surrounded by welcoming kids who didn't know me. I reached hand and learned what was required of me. I was not close to my mother. She never worked again to be contented and she passed away on March 1, 1977.
